Join us in London on 25 January to launch the Graded Care Profile 2 (GCP2). Learn about our pilot phase with 27 local authorities, hear from Dr Srivastava (the developer of the original GCP) and preview the new GCP2 materials and associated resources. We will share research findings on the original and updated GCP tool and will explain how to become part of the next phase of GCP2. For more information and to book a place

The National Child and Maternal Health Intelligence Network has published a needs assessment report. It brings together data and evidence on mental health in the antenatal and postnatal periods, as well the social development and wellbeing of babies and toddlers. The report can be used to inform local needs assessment by giving commissioners an indication of perinatal and infant mental health need in their area.
